

Margaret McCartney, Expat International's CEO was recently honoured as one of 118 inaugural global recipients of Worldwide ERC's newly launched Senior Global Mobility Specialist (SGMS™) designation.

The GMS certification is a Worldwide ERC training-based designation which educates and recognizes workforce mobility competency in those who work with mobile employees around the world. To date, over 2,500 GMS designations have been awarded in 51 countries.

The SGMS™ designation is awarded to those individuals who meet three criteria:

1. they hold a valid GMS™ designation
2. they have completed at least 10 global Continuing Education (CE) credits from Worldwide ERC® and
3. they have made considerable contributions of time and expertise to the mobility industry through Worldwide ERC® activity.
